DESCRIPTION OF THE ASSESSMENT SCALES

The indicator of the assessment of the development of OPOP is formed on the basis of combining the current and interim assessment of the student.

The rating indicator for each discipline is expressed as a percentage, which shows the level of preparation of the student.

Current assessment. A 100-point grading system is used. The evaluation of the student's work during the semester is carried out by the teacher in accordance with the system of evaluation of academic achievements developed by him in the process of studying in this discipline.

In the programs of disciplines and practices, the types of current certification, the planned results of control measures and criteria for evaluating academic achievements are fixed.

During the semester, the teacher conducts at least 3 control measures to assess the student's activity. If attendance of classes in a discipline is included in the rating, then this indicator is no more than 20% of the maximum number of points in the discipline.

Interim assessment. A 5-point grading system is used. The evaluation of the student's work at the end of the discipline (part of the discipline) is carried out by the teacher in accordance with the system developed by him for evaluating the student's achievements in the process of studying in this discipline. Intermediate certification is also carried out at the end of the formation of competencies.

The procedure for transferring the rating provided for by the assessment system, by discipline, to a five-point system.

High level - 100% - 70% - excellent, good.

The average level is 69% - 50% - satisfactory.

Evaluation indicator	According to the 5-point system	Characteristic of the indicator
100% - 85%	excellent	they have full theoretical knowledge, understand, independently know how to apply, investigate, identify, analyze, systematize, categorize, calculate indicators, classify, develop models, algorithmize, manage, organize, plan research processes, evaluate results at a high level
84% - 70%	good	they have full theoretical knowledge, understand, independently know how to apply, investigate, identify, analyze, systematize, categorize, calculate indicators, classify, develop models, algorithmize, manage, organize, plan research processes, evaluate results There may be shortcomings corrected by the student independently in the process of work (response, etc.)
69% - 50%	satisfactory	they have general theoretical knowledge, can apply, investigate, identify, analyze, systematize, categorize, calculate indicators, classify, develop models, algorithmize, manage, organize, plan research processes, evaluate results at the average level Mistakes are made that the student finds it difficult to correct on their own.
49 % and lower	unsatisfactory	they have an incomplete amount of general theoretical knowledge, do not know how to independently apply, investigate, identify, analyze, systematize, categorize, calculate indicators, classify, develop models, algorithmize, manage, organize, plan research processes, evaluate results. Skills and abilities for solving professional tasks are not formed.
100% - 50%	credit	the characteristic of the indicator corresponds to "excellent", "good", "satisfactory"
49 % and lower	not credit	the characteristic of the indicator corresponds to "unsatisfactory"

In accordance with the UN Charter, the UN General Assembly is authorized to:

discuss any issues or matters within the Charter;

make recommendations to the UN members or the Security Council on any such issues or cases;

consider the general principles of cooperation in the maintenance of international peace and security;

To draw the attention of the Security Council to situations that could threaten international peace and security;

Recommend measures for the peaceful settlement of any situation, regardless of its origin, which, in the opinion of the Assembly, could disrupt the general well-being or friendly relations between States.

What are the legal consequences of the relevant actions of the UN General Assembly in each of these cases?

3. Read the following provisions of the UN Charter:

Article 2

In order to achieve the Objectives set out in Article 1, the Organization and its Members shall act in accordance with the following Principles:

1. The Organization is based on the principle of sovereign equality of all its Members;
- ..4. All Members of the United Nations shall refrain in their international relations from the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any State, or in any other manner inconsistent with the Purposes of the United Nations.;

Article 39

The Security Council determines the existence of any threat to the peace, any breach of the peace or act of aggression and makes recommendations or decides on what measures should be taken...

Based on these provisions of the UN Charter, answer the question: does the situation in Somalia in 1992 pose a threat to peace? Here is how Fr . describes these events . Pelisser: "In December 1992, when the media tried to arouse compassion around the world by drawing attention to the famine in Somalia and the inability to provide humanitarian aid to those in need due to clashes between armed groups, the Security Council in resolution No. 794 decided to authorize a massive military intervention with the participation of American troops to ensure the delivery of humanitarian aid to the population of Somalia. Before that, the Secretary-General sent a letter to the Security Council in which he described the situation as a threat to peace."

Can it be described as a threat to international peace and security:
a coup d'etat and the coming to power of a militaristic government;
the civil war;
promotion of international terrorism (refusal to extradite criminals);
general mobilization;
a high level of crime, including international, in any state;
